0—Study of Languages—Army in India

(1) A letter has recently been circulated by A H Q India, in which His Excellency the Commander in Chief draws the attention of all officers of the Army in India to the necessity for increased attention being paid to the study of languages, in emphasising the importance of this study, he has the attainment of three different objects in view—a wider knowledge of Urdu among officers and men of British service, a higher standard of Urdu among officers of Indian Army, and a greater knowledge of foreign languages among officers of both British and Indian services.

2 The need for a much more general knowledge of the lingua franca of the country among officers and men of the British service is obvious, because Indian personnel forms an integral part of Artillery units and of Machine Gun Platoons and signal units, while co operation and liaison, essential for war, demand it no less recently.

As the obligatory test for officers of the Indian service covers more ground than necessary for officers of the British service, His Excellency the Commander in Chief has sanctioned the introduction of a simpler test open only to officers for whom the Urdu Qualifying test is not obligatory. He hopes that this may encourage these officers to acquire a knowledge of the language, sufficient for their dealing with natives and in their daily work and sport.

3 As regards officers of the Indian Army, His Excellency the Commander in Chief would like every encouragement given to officers to pass the higher tests.

With this object in view, the rewards for the Interpretership examinations in this and other Indian languages have been generally raised. (vide I. A. O No 77 of 1927)

64—Discipline.

A certain Unit of the British Army in India has given the following as a result of its own experience :-

"We, the rank and file of a certain unit in India, desire to place before other units of the Service an experiment we have made, which has proved a great success

The experiment was to extricate and completely dispense with the use of the word F G. At the first suggestion it was thought by the majority to be a sheer impossibility, for it was so well rooted that in a sense it had become part of us. Yet we have conquered this word and have completely dropped it out of our conversation and we are desirous of broadcasting our success, not for personal gain or praise, but to aid others who would feel disposed to benefit by the same.

The benefits derived from our success were many. It may now be said that everybody speaks the same language and we find that there is a greater respect and a firmer comradeship between officers and men. Life in the barrack room is found to be more pleasant.

By omitting this word, it is found that other unnecessary words are also cut out. This has the tendency to make man feel more certain of himself and will therefore help him upon his return to civil life.

The methods by which it was conquered were many.

Swear boxes were introduced into barrack rooms, and if any person used the debarred word he was fined one anna. This method lasted for a while and although it was not very successful, it helped to lay the foundation our success. Shortly afterwards a meeting of the rank and file was called and a new method was prescribed in the shape of pledge cards. Each member of the unit was asked to sign this pledge which was worded as follows "I, as a member of the..... will try to avoid using the debarred word".

It was not compulsory and it was surprising to find that almost every man signed this card, the few that stood out against it were none the less thought of for not signing. On being asked why they did not sign it they said "They thought it was impossible to cut the word out".

We then decided to adopt our experiment as a custom and if any member failed to respect it as such, he was called upon to apologise to his comrades. The procedure adopted was quite simple, for if anybody used the word were his Officer, N. C. O. or man, the nearest man to him was bound to call him up and ask for an apology which consisted of the offender merely saying "I am sorry".

Lectures were given frequently on the subject and proved very successful, for they acted as a tonic to the efforts we were putting up, and, it may be added, constantly renewed that effort.

Slowly, but surely, the word dwindled away to a mere nothing and the people who still used the word were the old "Die-Hards". As a last resort against these few offenders the majority asked if disciplinary action could be taken against them. At the mere threat of this their numbers were greatly reduced and there was not a single occasion on which disciplinary action was taken. A final appeal was made to these few men who had stood out so long and being in the minority they gave way and joined in the benefits we were reaping. Thus by their giving way, we were assured of complete victory over this word.

In handling the above problem, we did not find it easy solving for it must be accepted as a big thing to attempt. Added to the difficulties of the problem, we had to face and fight ridicule, an enemy nearly as big as the one we were already trying to beat. Ridicule from other units tried to drown our efforts but they did not upset our plans to any extent.

We request that this paper shall be sent to all units of the Service so that they may, if they wish to attempt it also gain something by our experience. We do not however, wish to have our name divulged and all we wish to do is to aid our fellowmen and comrades by bringing this word down to a minimum in the British Army.

Certificate of O. C. Unit.

I certify that the foregoing paper is the entire production of the rank and file of the unit under my command, and that I have satisfied myself that the facts are accurately recorded, and that it truthfully reflects the opinions and wishes of the men.

65—Medical

Table showing the summary of sickness in the Army of India, British and Indian Troops, during the month of January 1927 is published as an annexure to this Note.

66—Pay & Allowances

Reference paragraph 6 (1), Recruiting Regulations, Indian Army, and the note thereto in italics, viz that "expenditure in connection with the recruiting tours of British Officers will not be borne by the State."

2. Instances have recently occurred in which Commanding Officers have ordered British Officers on recruiting tours and have subsequently applied for the cost to be borne by the State. In view of the fact that it would obviously be unfair that British Officers so ordered should be out of pocket thereby, special Government sanction to the expenditure has had to be obtained.

3. While it is still considered necessary to adhere to the general principle that expenditure in connection with the recruiting tours of British Officers will not be borne by the State, it has now been decided that in special cases where it is desired that the cost of the tour should be borne by the State, the sanction of the Government of India will be applied for in each case through the usual channel prior to the despatch of the British Officer on tour. In future unless this procedure is invariably carried out, the cost will not be borne by the State.

4. All such applications will be considered on their merits and in submitting them full reasons should be given as to the necessity and particular purpose of the tour together with a detailed estimate of cost, and must be submitted in sufficient time before the tour commences to enable Government sanction being obtained.

(A. H. Q., A. G's Branch No A/37029/10 (A. G. 6) dated 4. 8. 27.)

67—Retirements Officers-B. A.

War Office have intimated to Army Headquarters, India, that in the case of applications of British Service officers to retire from the service dates of retirement are specified and then subsequently altered for various reasons, thus necessitating changes in the London Gazette. It would, therefore, be preferable if no date is mentioned in such cases until such time as the exact date of retirement is definitely known.

In consequence of the decision that in future the appointment of Recruiting Officer may be held by officers of the rank of Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel, the following instructions are issued for the guidance of all concerned —

- (i) Recruiting Officers are directly under the orders of the Adjutant General in India and all orders connected with their duties will accordingly be conveyed by Army Headquarters
- (ii) As the primary duties of a Recruiting Officer are limited to those concerned with Recruiting he is not to be regarded as available to exercise command of any formation by virtue of being the Senior Officer present, nor as available for routine garrison duties
- (iii) In the event of general mobilization the importance of the appointment will be such that no Recruiting Officer should be detailed for any internal security duties not connected with his appointment except in a very emergency. A report will be made immediately to Army Headquarters in the event of such necessity arising
- (iv) Recruiting Officers will conform to the local orders of the District and Stations in which they are required to tour in connection with their duties

Q. M. G's letter No 66334 Q-15 dated 12th March 1927, regarding the supply of chargers on mobilization, is republished for information

"Copy of A H Q Q M G's Branch No 66334 Q 15 dated 12th March 1927 to Headquarters All Commands

With a view to examining the liabilities of the Army Remount Department for the supply of chargers on mobilization, C M A's were asked to report the actual number of motor cars and motor cycles maintained by officers under the provision of A I I No 1239 of 1924 Appendix 1, para 8 (c)

The result of that inquiry indicated that a total of 899 motor cars and motor cycles are now being maintained in lieu of chargers by officers

■ In order to examine the question further, Commands were then asked to furnish the following information —

- (a) List of appointments in which the Army Commander is prepared to sanction the upkeep of a motor car or motor cycle in lieu of a charger in peace time
- (b) List of appointments included in (a) in which it is considered that the duties can be efficiently carried out with the same vehicle, in lieu of a charger after mobilization
- (c) List of appointments in (b) in which a motor car or motor cycle is already maintained in lieu of a charger

■ Replies received from Commands show that out of 899 motor cars or motor cycles now being maintained, G O C's in C consider that 381 appointments, for which motor cars or cycles are now being utilised in lieu of chargers, could continue to use this form of vehicle after mobilization. It has therefore been decided that in cases in which officers holding the appointments shown in the attached statement maintain motor cars or cycles in lieu of chargers in peace under the provisions of A I I 1239 of 1924 they shall not be entitled to be provided with chargers by the Army Remount Department on mobilization, in lieu of such motor cars or motor cycles. The object of this decision is to reduce the difficulty with which the Remount Department are faced in providing chargers required on mobilization "

Annexure to P District Note No 76 of 1927

Copy of Memo No 4124/91/E 5 dated 21st February 1927, from Headquarters S C, to A M Qrs (Q M G's Branch) Delhi

SUBJECT —RENT OFFICERS QUARTERS.

1 It has been pointed out that no rule exists whereby an officer, who draws assessed rent only in cases when the assessed rent is vide No 10782/67/Q dated 28th January 1927, the remarks by C M A, Southern Command thereon a copy of which is attached

2 It is probable that the matter has already been considered and decided upon but no information has been received in this Command on the point

Copy of No 70329/Q M G 3, dated 24th March 1927, from the Q M G in India, to Headquarters, Southern Command

Reference Headquarters Southern Command No 4124/94/E 5, dated 21st February 1927. The purpose and scope of that lodging allowance is clearly understood which can only be drawn in certain specific circumstances

2 Government has undertaken to accommodate all officers but has, at the same time, permitted officers to make private arrangements for accommodation, subject to certain restrictions. Where an officer is permitted to make private arrangements, or, where for any reason Government is unable to provide him with accommodation, he is entitled to draw lodging allowance, to cover expenses of accommodation.

3 It is clearly laid down in paragraph 4(a) of Army Instruction (India) No 2 S/25 that 'An officer to whom quarters have been allotted of the class to which he is entitled, will not receive lodging allowance', and in paragraph 4(b) ibid, that when Government quarters are not available for an officer he will receive lodging allowance and will make his own arrangements for quarters.

There is, therefore, no question of payment of rent, and the officer is in no way concerned with the rent of Government quarters, assessed or otherwise. The question is one of eligibility or otherwise to draw an allowance.

4 It is realized that, in certain cases, assessed rent is less than lodging allowance recoverable, but scales of lodging allowance are based on an all India average, and in this connection, it should be remembered that, in the great majority of cases, Government has to pay excess rent over and above lodging allowance withheld under paragraph 4(c) of Army Instruction (India) No 2 S/25.

Annexure to C P District Note No 86 of 1927.

Government of India Army Department, letter No 33274/4 (A D) to All Local Governments and Administrations, d/ 22-3-1927.

Cantonment Hospitals & Dispensaries

Some time ago the All India Cantonment Association claimed that Cantonment Authorities possess the right to appoint their own assistants in Cantonment hospitals and dispensaries, and the Government of India have taken this opportunity to review the situation with regard to the administration of these institutions.

2 The Cantonment hospital or dispensary is intended to serve the needs of the sick poor of the cantonment and is essentially a civil institution. In all important cantonments the medical officer of a cantonment hospital is an Indian Medical Service or possibly a Royal Army Medical Corps officer appointed and withdrawn by the local military authorities and helped by an assistant who, in the past, has invariably been a military Sub Assistant Surgeon similarly appointed. In the smaller cantonments where only a dispensary is maintained, it is possible that the medical officer himself may be a Sub-Assistant Surgeon. The medical officers so appointed are paid by Government but generally receive an allowance from Cantonment funds. The assistants are generally paid entirely from Cantonment funds but their service continues to count for pension.

3 Under section 171 of the Cantonments Act 1924, the medical officer of a cantonment hospital or dispensary is appointed in such manner as the local Government may direct. The Government of India consider that there are ample reasons, both administrative and financial, to justify the continued appointment of Government servants in the person of military officers as medical officers in these institutions, but by the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, responsible under the Act for the administration of civil and military interests therein. I am to inquire whether His Excellency the Governor in Council has any objection to you have issuing orders under section 171 (3) of the Act in the above sense.

4 So far as the assistant to the medical officer is concerned, much the same considerations apply in favour of the continuance of the existing arrangements which possess the great advantage of providing a reserve of sub-assistant surgeons for Army purposes and, at the same time, ensure the appointment of qualified and suitable medical subordinates. The Government of India see no objection in principle to a reserve of military Cantonment taxpayer, Cantonment population, by every possible means to continue to draw upon the establishment of military sub-assistant surgeons for the purpose of making such appointments. Nor would they object to relaxing the present administrative arrangements so as to concede the right of formally appointing these officers to the Cantonment Board.

5 Under Section 172 (1) of the Cantonments Act, every hospital or dispensary maintained or aided under section 171 shall be maintained in accordance with a general or special orders of the Governor General in Council or the local Government for the conduct of hospitals or dispensaries, or in accordance with the said order modified in such manner as the Governor General in Council or the local Government for the conduct of hospitals or dispensaries, or in accordance with the said order modified in such manner as the Governor General in Council or the local Government as the case may be, thinks fit. The intention of this section is that the conduct of cantonment hospitals and dispensaries shall ordinarily be regulated by any general or special orders that may be in existence for the conduct of hospitals and dispensaries generally; but that such orders may be modified to suit the special conditions of cantonments by the authority which passed them. Advance passages for the families of British Service Officers

The Secretary of State for India has sanctioned the grant of advance passages to Great Britain for the families of British service officers serving on the Indian Establishment once during an officer's tour, in the following circumstances:—

- (1) When satisfactory evidence is forthcoming that the grant of passage is desirable on educational grounds, and

2. This sanction is accorded subject to the following conditions —

- (a) That no extra expense to Government is incurred, which will mean that advance passages may only be granted by transport, when accommodation is available
- (b) That the officer furnishes a certificate to the effect that he foregoes all future claim against Government for those members of his family to whom advance passages are granted, when he himself proceeds overseas on the completion of his tour.

The proposal to issue extra rations to sick and men debilitated from repeated operations has been rejected as a New Demand.

2 Funds are not, therefore, available from 1st April 1927.

Efforts are, however, being made in part to meet the demand until specific sanction is received.

Septic conditions have been the chief cause of the higher rates of admissions. These septic cases have, however, been admitted, whenever necessary, instead of being treated in barracks, with the result, although admissions have been greater, the average duration of treatment has been less.

The apparent increase in dysentery cases is due to the fact that all such cases are now correctly labelled, owing to bacteriological tests, instead of being classified under different names.

The difference in fitness between British Service and Indian Army British Officers is very marked. Owing to permanent service in India, it might be expected that the rate among British Officers of the Indian Army would be greater than that of British Service Officers, instead of the reverse. This is a matter which calls for attention of Commanding Officers of British Units.

As regards Indian Other ranks the decrease in admissions, as the form is proportionately counterbalanced by a large increase in the cases. There has also been an increase in the average constantly since 1901.

This shows that many men who should be admitted to barracks, a mistaken course designed, as a rule, not incidents for any of the but of statistics. Calcutta, and any brigades should be

No 34252/1 (A D)

Government of India, Army Department

Simla, the 13th May 1927.

To

The General Officer Commanding in Chief,
Western Command

Procedure for executing leases with unregistered Clubs

Sir,

With reference to your letter No 398 M L C, dated the 13th April 1927, I am directed to say that where clubs are not registered under the Indian Companies Act, short term leases must be granted for five years in the names of, say, six members of the Committee of the Club. These members would all be personally responsible but could, if desired, be indemnified against loss by the members of the Club as a whole. At the end of five years, the leases may be renewed in the names of six of the then most permanent members of the Committee. The Government of India consider, however, that the advantages of registration under the Indian Companies Act should be impressed upon all Clubs that wish to take out leases.

I am Sir,

Your Most Obedient Servant

128—Medical

The families of Indian soldiers are civilians and are free to choose their own medical attendant, they may refuse to be treated by any particular medical officer.

They are not, however, entitled to reside in the lines of military units unless they conform to the rules and regulations laid down from time to time with a view to safeguarding the health of the troops.

A Commanding Officer would be within his legal rights if he issued an order that no families "unprotected" against small-pox and enteric fevers would be permitted to live in the lines.

He might at the same time inform all concerned that "protection" against small pox and enteric fevers will be given free by the Medical Officer of the unit or at the Indian Military Hospital.

He could also—in consultation with the Medical Officer of the unit—make arrangements with some lady doctor acceptable to Indian officers and men of the unit generally, and inform all concerned that, if referred, families may be vaccinated, inoculated, etc., by the lady doctor on payment of certain fees which he could arrange with the lady doctor these fees to be paid by the head of the family to the lady doctor at the time of treatment and a certificate obtained as to the particular form of "protection" afforded.

GENERAL STAFF BRANCH

Education Indian Army

The total period of the appointment of an Educational Jemadar or Havildar is four years whether he is transferred between the Training and Active Battalions or not.

The object is to ensure that an Indian Officer or Non Commissioned Officer does not spend so much time on educational work that he loses touch with his other duties.

135—Examinations—Promotion

The results of promotion examinations in subjects (a) and (c) held in India during the Spring of 1927 were as follows —

	(a)	(c)
Number of candidates ...	162	180
Passed ..	149	161
Failed ...	13	19
Obtained 8 marks	6	12

■ Improvement is still necessary in the points enumerated in District Note No. 47 current, para 2, and especially those mentioned in sub-para (vii), (viii) and (ix)

(A H Q No. 22391/12/M. 1. 2 dated 6th July 1927)

7—M. T. Recreation

H. Q. Southern Command have decided to abolish Command Championships except in the case of Boxing.

2. C. P. District Sports will be held this year about the end of the Collective training season and on similar lines to last year.

3. The District Rugby Football Championship will be held this year at Mhow on 29th August to 1st September 1927. Separate instructions have been issued regarding this.

P. L. HANBURY, COLONEL,
General Staff.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S BRANCH.

138—Discipline-General.

Copy of War Office circular No 114/General/6452 (A. G. 3), dated the 4th September 1924 is published

6. "I am commanded by the Army Council to inform you that on Sunday June 22nd, the Roman Catholic Feast of Corpus Christi regular soldiers stationed at Warley and Hampshire Territorials stationed at Cowes, acted as guards of honour to the Blessed Sacrament. At Warley the party attended at the request of the Officiating Roman Catholic Chaplain and took part in a public procession carrying rifles and fixed bayonets."

"I am to say that the Council wish it to be known throughout the Army that they have no objection to soldiers who are Roman Catholics, taking part, in walking out in order in the body which is termed an official procession in the spirit of King's I."

"I am to add that Roman Catholic Chaplains should be instructed that in future they are not to prefer requests for the services of troops for any official participation in such ceremonies, but that Roman Catholic soldiers may attend voluntarily as above."

139—Discipline-General.

Copy of War Office circular No. 7/Gen/9703 (M. T. 1.) dated the 30th May 1927, is published.

"I am commanded by the Army Council to inform you that flights in aircraft by military personnel when not on duty can only be undertaken on express instruction from the Air Ministry in individual cases."

As the law stands however it is not possible to grant permanent commissions in the Reserve to members (officers and other ranks) for the Auxiliary Force (India) and it has been found inadvisable to amend the law in this respect.

At the request of many members of the Auxiliary Force (India) who wished to join the Reserve and at the same time preserve their connection with the former force the "officer designate" category was introduced.

It will be noted that service as an "officer designate" counts pari passu with that of the "officer" towards promotion in the Reserve, and that when called up for service the former is in every respect on equal terms with the latter and will relinquish his membership of the Auxiliary Force (India) and receive a permanent commission."

Furlough is normally granted after two years' effective service in Iraq and at the rate of 73 days in respect of each completed year of effective service, and one day in respect of each completed period of five days effective service of an incomplete year—effective service, for this purpose being held to commence from the date of arrival in Iraq. Free passages to and from Iraq are provided for officers at the commencement of and on completion of their services in Iraq and also for officers proceeding on leave in accordance with the leave regulations and returning for further service in Iraq. The period occupied by the voyages to or from Iraq, other than the voyage to Iraq or first appointment to the Levies is regarded as part of the leave. Officers who fail to complete a period of two years service in Iraq are however not normally eligible for a free passage to the United Kingdom, and in cases where such furlough is due to the Officer's resignation of his appointment, he may in addition, be called upon to pay the cost of his outward passage from the United Kingdom to Iraq.

An outfit allowance of £ 20/- is payable to officers appointed to the Levies subject to the proviso that any officer, who for reasons other than ill health or the disbanding of his unit, fails to complete a period of two years service from the date of his arrival in Iraq on first appointment to the Levies, is liable to refund half of the amount paid to him in respect of outfit allowance.

Officers above the rank of Lieutenant are not generally selected for service with the Levies, unless it is desired to obtain the services of an officer to fill a special appointment.

Note—A married officer for the purpose of furniture, lodging fuel and light allowances is an officer, who not being a widower without a family or divorced without a family is married and is either (a) 30 years of age or over, or (b) was married and serving on 13th September, 1919.

3—Organization

His Excellency the Commander in Chief, India, has advised that the present policy is "No Change". Since war many measures of reorganization have been carried out and he considers that the Indian Army requires a period for consolidation. Officers on tour should explain the above policy when replying to any reorganization proposals and make it clear that only the most urgent of reasons will induce a reconsideration of the present authorised class composition."

(A H Q No AH4811/1 (A G C), of 6 8 27).

5—Pay & Allowances

Reference District Note No 85 of 1927

In the Annexure thereto under 'Mount Abu' end of column, insert the following as a footnote —

"With effect from 1 8 27 Sweepers at Mount Abu, not provided with free quarters, may be given an extra allowance of Rs 1/ per mensem each"

5—M. & Allowances — Pay of Instructors at Army Schools

Reference to Army Instruction (India) B-41 of 1927, it has been ascertained that still some doubt on the question of what pay an officer will get whilst an instructor at an Army School.

(Ann) Proposed that the following remarks will make the situation clear.

All officers on the new rates of pay will draw pay in accordance with Army Instruction (India) No 1 8 of 1925 i.e. they draw revised pay of rank and allowances, plus Rs 150 additional pay in the case of a class 'B' instructor and Rs 100 additional pay in the case of a class 'C' instructor.

(2) Officers on the old rates of pay seconded for employment at Schools of Instruction may if otherwise eligible, retain the old rates of pay and staff pay and on return to their units, such officers may if otherwise eligible still draw the old rates of regimental pay and allowances (vide Army Instruction (India) A 29 of 1926)

(3) British Service officers on the old rates of pay draw the old rates of pay for Indian Army whilst instructors at Schools, i.e.

Captain (class B) — draws Rs 750 plus the staff pay laid down in Pay and Allowance Regulations Part I (1924 Edition) for an equivalent appointment at the school in question.

Captain (class C) — draws Rs 700 (Rs 750/ after 9 years' service), plus the staff pay laid down in Pay and Allowance Regulations Part I (1924 Edition) for an equivalent appointment at the School in question.

- (4). Indian Army officers on the old rates of pay employed on the instructional staffs of Schools will receive, from the 1st April 1927, pay allowances equivalent to the amount they would have received had they continued to serve with their units, plus Rs 150 a month additional if a Class "B" instructor and Rs 100 a month additional pay if a Class "C" instructor. If a Company officer is appointed to a Class "B" instructorship at a School on 1st May he receives as pay for May a sum equivalent to the amount drawn by a Company officer plus Rs 150. If in the following September or November a company command becomes vacant for two months in which the officer, by virtue of his seniority, would have officiated were he still with his unit he draws pay for those two months equivalent to that of a company commander plus Rs 150 additional pay.

Thus throughout his tenure of appointment at the School he will each month get a clear Rs 150 more than he would be getting with his unit.

- (5). The above remarks should be brought to the notice of all officers.

4--Examinations - Promotion

The following extracts from H Q Southern Command No 17928/13/G dated 9 27 are published for guidance

1 The standard of Military knowledge displayed by the majority of officers who ended the recent Junior Officers Course at Poona was remarkably low, especially in Law and Military Law

2. For instance several officers did not realize what was meant by "Appreciating Situation", or how to set about doing so. One, a Captain had no knowledge whatever of map reading, and the majority obviously lacked practice in tactical exercises both written and on the ground

3 Moreover, with one or two exceptions no officer had up to date training manuals, properly corrected. Some officers were still working on I. T., Vol. II, 1921. He had corrected copies of T & M Regulations

4 It is hoped that the question of extra instruction to Junior Officers of Services Departments will receive close attention, and that facilities for R. E. and Departmental officers to attend tactical exercises, etc., with units in their stations will be en.

The Patria Government have decided not to renew the enactment (Ordinance No II of 1915) which provided special protection to Indian soldiers who are subjects of that State similar to that conferred by the Indian Soldiers Litigation Act, and are reverting to the procedure which existed before the war.

situation in regard to old age horses in units is fully realized at Army Headquarters, and steps are being taken to purchase extra horses to replace the excess of such animals. In addition to such special measures as the importation of mares, the situation should be dealt with on a command and not on a unit basis, as the authorised percentage of wastage for the whole command is not castings in excess of the authorised percentage in particular units should be dealt with, by making a saving in other units in which the number of old age animals is above the authorised percentage.

Remount and veterinary castings should be kept down to a minimum in all units, in those units in which the proportion of old age animals is excessive, old age animals should be cast as freely as possible so long as there is an undue proportion of animals fifteen years old and over in the unit. It is not considered desirable to lay down a percentage for each of the three different classes of wastage, Remount or old and worn out. Each unit must therefore be treated on its merits.

In view of the above, old age castings should be increased at discretion in units which has an undue proportion of over age animals by making a corresponding reduction in other units where the number of old animals is below the average.

GENERAL STAFF BRANCH.

1 T. General

Information has been received that the Air Ministry have decided that the use of flour bags from aircraft as a means of representing bombing is to be discontinued forthwith for all purposes.

The Air Ministry have been asked whether there is any other suitable means of simulating low bombing to take the place of flour bag dropping.

(A. H. Q. No 23014/M. T., dated 17-10-27)

Q Southern Command No. 14296/1/G, dated 4-3-27, is published for information.

Notes on experiments in Air deception, camouflage and concealment of troops carried out in the Aldershot Command during 1925 and 1926 have been forwarded from Army Headquarters. These camouflage units for air deception purposes were improvised and tried out in collective training with satisfactory results.

These notes apply to training in close country, under conditions as they exist, and it is not considered necessary to circulate them to Districts.

The General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, however, wishes District Commands to give the important subject of camouflage generally their attention during training seasons and at all troop concentration.

215—M. T. General.

H. Q. Southern Command No. 8301/14/G, dated 8-10-27, is published for information and guidance.

Training.

1. The General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, wishes special attention to the points referred to in the attached note during the coming Collective Training Season.

2. This note is issued in amplification of the Army Headquarters, Collective Training Report, in which a reference will be found to most of the points forwarded.

3. Reference to points connected with tactical problems and the handling of troops in the field has purposely been avoided.

The same criticisms on these subjects occur annually, but they are full with in the various training manuals and are receiving the attention of all commands and staffs.

Command and Direction.

1. Attention is directed to Army Headquarters, Collective Training Report, 1926-27, paragraph 2.

Lessons to be brought out.

2. The tendency to attempt to teach too many lessons in a day's work is constantly criticised and must be guarded against.

To ensure progressive training it is suggested that formations might with advantage issue out for each of the five principal tactical situations of War as given in Training and Manoeuvres Regulations, Section 16 (3). Subordinate formations will then be responsible for bringing out one or more of these daily during the earlier stages of Battalion and Brigade training.

Training Report, 1926-27, para
11, page 6, (last sub-para).

Establishments.

3. All units and formations should be reduced to the minimum establishment laid down in W. L. India. This applies to personnel of Headquarters Wing.

Umpires

4 A Command nucleus of trained umpires is being formed Orders will be issued separately.

Districts will include a para in their Collective Training reports giving their opinion as to the value of this nucleus, and whether it should be formed annually

It is hoped that Districts will as far as possible try out any experiment suggested by the Chief Umpire and will report on its value

The methods of shewing Artillery fire especially requires consideration

Attention is directed to para 26 (b) (iii) of Supplementary Memorandum on Army Training, Collective Training Period, 1926, issued by the War Office.

Information

5. During last Collective Training Season the flow of information from front to rear was far from satisfactory. Commanders must ensure that everything possible is done to keep them in touch with the situation (See Infantry Training Chapter II, Section 13 20)

For this the following are essential —

- (a) Training of Junior Officers to send in frequent and useful messages

These should not be merely bald statements of the situation What is required in every field message is a summary of the situation, suggestions for overcoming opposition, positions from which the Superior Commander can personally study the situation, and the best routes by which reserves can be moved up

- (b) Arrangements on the part of the Commander to ensure that all possible means are put at the disposal of junior commanders for getting their information back

- (c) Measures by Commanders to supply above and ensure that their own Headquarters are constantly watching the progress of forward troops, e.g. specially trained observation visits by his staff to Headquarters for information etc.
- In this respect it is for consideration that a portion of the intelligence personnel Battalion etc., Headquarters should be employed during in action to watch the activities of forward troops.
- (d) Intelligent anticipation and constant surveillance on the part of commanders of hostile bodies - however large or small may be.

All commanders will pay particular attention to this important subject and will include it in the suggestions in paragraphs (b) and (c) in their Collective Training Reports.

Army Headquarters, Collective
Training Report, 1926 27, paragraph 3.

Scouts and Intelligence personnel

6 During last Collective Training some confusion of thought was evident in 'Scouting' and 'Intelligence' work.

This was largely due to the wording "Manual of Military Intelligence in the Scout" and should disappear now that the Scout Headquarters wing have been re-designated 'Intelligence Sections'.

It is considered that their main duties in action will be to man O.P.s and carry out any special reconnaissances the O.C. Battalion, or Regiment, may require. They must be highly trained especially in the use of field glasses (see also para 5 (c)).

"Scouting" by men of Companies platoons is usually a reconnaissance of the position of the enemy on their own immediate front. Practically any man in a Company should be able to carry out this duty.

Night Operations

7 With the exception of one or two Divisions sufficient attention was not paid to night operations during last Collective Training Season.

From the training point of view the valuable night operations are those culminated in an operation at or about dawn on the following day (e.g. an approach march and development at night culminating in a dawn attack).

Full advantage must be taken of the increased amount of air co operation which it has been possible to arrange this year to practice A. A. measures.

These will consist of—

Concurrence and adoption of suitable formations.

Controlled rifle fire, the unit being the platoon.

A. A. Light automatic fire by units in possession of standard pattern or improvised A. A. mountings.

Umpires will give full credit to attacks from the air in all cases where the above measures are not fully enforced.

Zeroing of Rifles.

To ensure uniformity in the zeroing of rifles, the following notes are put forward for guidance. The method of zeroing as described in these notes will be adhered to until further orders are issued on the subject.

Notes on Zeroing Rifles

Before any firing commences on the range it is essential that a soldier should be zeroed unless found accurate in grouping. This ensures that the rifle is correctly centred both for elevation and direction.

The following method of zeroing is issued provisionally subject to the amendments which will appear in S A T in due course. The following sequence should be adhered to —

1. Examination of Rifle.

- (a) Sights—see that they are not loose bent or damaged in any way.
- (b) Stock—see that butt is tight and woodwork not warped.
- (c) Screws—see that they are not loose
- (d) Barrel—clean, free from nickelling, and has some play at the muzzle.

Unless the above are in good order zeroing will be useless.

Zeroing for Elevation

- (a) Group fired, without bayonet fixed and with rest, at 100 yards
- (b) Rifle corrected by alteration of foresight whenever possible

B — (1) Sizes of foresights —

03	} Each size gives an increase or decrease of elevation of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches at 100 yards, depending whether minus or plus respectively
015
00 (normal)
- 015
- 03
- 045
- 06

N B — (1) Correct M P I. at 100 yards is approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches above the point of aimZeroing for Direction

- (a) To be carried out from 100 yards firing point at special zeroing target at 25 yards without bayonet fixed and with a rest
- (b) At least 2 rounds to be fired. If these do not group within $\frac{1}{2}$ further rounds to be fired as necessary to obtain the M. P. I.
- (c) Measure lateral errors and correct with tool, adjusting foresight on basis of 1 complete turn moving the M P I $1\frac{1}{2}$ " at 25 yards, or, where windgauge is fitted (see para 3 (d) below), one division gives the same result

Target 1 ft sq
 Black aiming marks 2" long \times 4" broad. Vertical lines on face of target 1" apart to assist in estimating the lateral error

Test

- (a) First for direction on zeroing target, and secondly on grouping target at 100 yards, without bayonet fixed and with a rest, for elevation
- (b) With bayonet on grouping target at 100 yards to find out difference, if any, in position of M. P. I.
- (c) These results should be recorded in the soldier's scoring book and, where differences exist, calculation made for correct sighting at 300 yards and under.

5 General Notes

- (a) Register with columns as per proforma attached, 1 per section used
These must be afterwards retained to facilitate interchanges of in units
- (b) Only known good shots to fire
- (c) Alterations of foresights may only be carried out by Armourer Serg
- (d) The windgauge is not issued with the tool adjusting, foresight old one can be brazed on by any Armourer

Annexure to C P District Note No 219 of 1927

CANTONMENTS

No 17687 / 1 / M. L. O
Headquarters Southern Command

To

Headquarters, Poona District Secunderabad.
" C P. District Mhow.

All Officers Commanding Stations
All Military Estates Officers.

Some misapprehension appears still to exist with regard to the relation between Military Estates Officers, Officers Commanding Stations and Officers Commanding

A circular was issued on the 11th inst. containing a note drawn up as the result of a conference between the Indian Infantry Battalion, the Adjutant of the Station and the Officer of the Station —

I As things stand at present, the Military Officer has no control over the land within his Unit area nor can he interfere in any way with anything the Military Estates Officer may choose to do except presumably with the sanction of the Government of India through the usual channels, a very lengthy process.

II This system appears to be unworkable for the reason that the Commanding Officer has no control over the land within his Unit area nor can he interfere in any way with anything the Military Estates Officer may choose to do except presumably with the sanction of the Government of India through the usual channels, a very lengthy process.

The following are a few examples of what might occur —

III The following are a few examples of what might occur —
1. Graziers may be introduced from the medical and disciplinary point of view. They introduce dirt and flies, and the animals frequently knock over and destroy refuse bins and pits, emptying their contents throughout the lines. The battalions mules are allowed to graze freely on the parade grounds of the unit. Presumably the lessee of the land has a right to object, as he might also object to being excluded from barracks where the Commanding Officer considers grazing undesirable.

2. The lessee has no right to object if the Commanding Officer considers grazing undesirable in the garden.

V Similarly an action might be brought by the lessee of the grazing ag the Commanding Officer, if the latter drove cattle off the unit parade ground when wished to have a parade.

VI All grass is dug up within a certain distance of each barrack and this is kept clear of grass constantly, but this also seems to be illegal.

VII. There is nothing to prevent wallows for buffaloes being formed close to barracks, which are first rate breeding places for mosquitoes

VIII A Commanding Officer cannot legally cut the branch of a tree which threatens damage to a barrack

IX The fruit of all trees in the lines is sold by auction and the same rules are applicable to the servants of the buyer as to those of the grazier.

X. Where foot or vehicle traffic through the barracks or across any portion of the parade grounds of a unit is objectionable from the military point of view, the Commanding Unit is unable to stop it "

I am directed to deal with the various points serialim —

I This is not so Military Estates Officers have been appointed to act as agents of the Military Authorities and save them the trouble of administering 'A' lands

It is clearly laid down that Military Estates Officers should act in consultation with various Unit Commanders and under the orders of the Officer Commanding Station

II The Commanding Officer has complete control in his own lines and is perfectly justified, for instance, in objecting to cattle grazing between, or close to barracks

If he did, the Military Estates Officer would ordinarily defer to his wishes; however, he considered an Officer Commanding Unit was unreasonable, he might appeal to the Officer Commanding Station and his orders would be final

III The principle is sound and an Officer Commanding Station would do well to take the view and pass orders accordingly The Military Estates Officer would be obliged to comply.

Where grazing leases are given, he would have to impose conditions in consultation with Unit Commanders concerned and under orders of the Officer Commanding Station

If a Military Estates Officer refers a case to the inspecting Officer for reference to the inspecting Officer. In this case he should inform the inspecting Officer of any opportunity of representing his views, if they are at variance with those of the Military Estates Officer. It should always be remembered that the Military Estates Officer is the Agent of Government and directly responsible that all Government business is administered in accordance with the laws and regulations in force and that he is obliged to represent any case where he considers such rules are being contravened.

IV. An Officer Commanding Unit would be perfectly at liberty to start a garden, and enclosing it, he would have to obtain the formal sanction of the Cantonment Authority, as in the case of all private buildings.

V. This should be covered by the conditions of the lease, which having been made up in consultation with the Officer Commanding Station, could hardly fail to provide adequately for such points.

VI. Perfectly permissible, but if the grass is sold, the proceeds would have to be credited to Government through the Military Estates Officer.

VII. Again a point which should be provided for by conditions of lease, which should include a general condition that anything considered insanitary may be the orders of the Officer Commanding Station be forbidden.

VIII. He merely has to ask the Military Estates Officer to remove it, and he is free to either comply or refer to Officer Commanding Station for orders. Such details should rarely require more than a verbal request or telephone message.

IX. Sources of revenue must be exploited to provide funds for the administration of Military Lands which are not under the Cantonment Authority, and therefore charge against their funds.

If an Officer Commanding objects to fruit being sold, his remedy would be to stop it at the auction and then dispose of it in whatever way he chose.

X. He certainly cannot stop people using any public thoroughfare, but is at liberty to prevent people wandering about in his lines. This could ordinarily be done through the Regimental police.

In conclusion, I am to say that in introducing a new set of rules and a new system, some difficulties and misapprehensions are bound occasionally to arise, but with a little give and take and co-operation they should not be difficult of solution. Advice should be freely be made to the Inspecting Officer, Military Lands and should be sought at Command Headquarters when advice is wanted.

A. T. WALKER,

Lieutenant Colonel,

Inspecting Officer, Mily. Lands and Cantts,

Southern Command.

Reference correspondence relating with my No. 62004/Q 12, dated 7-2-27, and replies thereto.

The matter has been fully considered and it has been decided that the balance in exchange is not sufficient to justify alteration of the existing procedure of issuing clothing as laid down in the rules published as an Appendix to (I) No. 1 of 1924, and I A. O. No. 634 of 1925, is to continue.

1. Please issue instructions to all O. C. Training Battalions regarding the issue of clothing for the greatest care being exercised in the valuation of kit etc. It must be remembered that reservists' kit is not only required to be serviceable at the time of mobilisation but should also have at least 3 months wear under field service conditions.

2. Any article which falls below the required standard should not be taken into account.

3. If the points brought to notice above are strictly observed there should be no objection for granting any extra allowances for the upkeep of reservists' kit during the training period and there will be a reasonable guarantee that reservists will be provided with a serviceable kit, if and when mobilisation is ordered.

Revision of pay of the British Officers serving with the Frontier Irregular Corps

I am directed to refer to Foreign and Political Department Memorandum No 50 A dated 1st April 1925 and subsequent correspondence and to inform you that His Majesty's Secretary of State for India has sanctioned the following revision of pay of the British Officers serving with the Zhob Levy Corps — and the Mekran Levy Corps, viz —

- Pay of rank at the rates laid down for Regimental Officers of the Indian Army in Special Army Instruction (India) 1 S dated 7th March 1925
- Lodging allowance at unmarried rates as laid down for Regimental Officers of the Indian Army in Special Army Instruction (India) 1-S dated 7th March 1925, or rent free quarters in the case of those officers who are occupying Government Quarters

(c) Staff Pay at the rates existing for the various Frontier Irregular Corps such pay to be regarded as inclusive of the Indian Army allowance admissible under the terms of Special Army Instruction (India) 1 S dated 7th March 1925, and to be renamed "additional pay inclusive of Indian Army Allowance."

(d) A "Frontier Allowance" at the following rates —

For Lieutenant Colonel	...	Rs 120 p m
Major after 5 years as such	..	" 105 p m.
Major	..	" 90 p m
Captain after 15 years service	...	" 75 p m.
Captain after 10 years service	...	" 65 p m
Captain	..	" 60 p m
Lieutenant after 7 years service	..	" 50 p m.
Lieutenant	..	" 40 p m
2nd Lieutenant	.	, 40 p m

2 As a matter of policy the Government of India consider that the appointment of married officers to the Frontier Irregular Corps should be discouraged and for this reason the allowances admissible to married officers in regular employ under the terms of Special Army Instruction (India) No 1 S dated 7th March 1925 have been excluded from the terms of this revision. The Government of India have realized however that in this respect these officers will be at a disadvantage relatively as compared with their confreres in Regimental employ and consequently a compensatory allowance termed Frontier Allowance has been sanctioned vide item (d) of para 1 above. This Frontier Allowance has been fixed with a view to maintaining as far as possible the relative pecuniary advantage of service in Frontier Irregular Corps over that of service in the Regular Indian Army.

3 The above revision is compulsory for all Frontier Irregular Corps Officers. Any present incumbent who will lose by this revision may be granted a personal pay equal to the difference between the total emoluments admissible under this revision and the emoluments which would have been admissible under the present rules for a similar appointment (Permanent or officiating). This personal pay will disappear with the subsequent increase in emoluments.

4 As the rates of Staff Pay which it is proposed to continue under the terms of the appointment held by each officer, the 'pay' admissible to Commandants, 2nd in command, etc., in regular employ under the terms of the Special Army Instruction above referred to will not be admissible to Frontier Irregular Corps Officers.

5 It has been decided that paragraph 17 and Appendix B of Special Army Instruction (India) 1 S dated 7th March 1925 regarding leave pay and paragraph 13 of that Army Instruction regarding officiating appointments shall apply to Officers of the Frontier Irregular Corps.

6 This revision is sanctioned with effect from 1st July 1924 i.e. the date of the revision promulgated in Special Army Instruction (India) 1 S dated 7th March 1925 for those officers in regular Military employ and in subject to a further effect from 1st July 1927 should such provisions be approved.

No 539/82/Q 2,
Army Headquarters India
Quartermaster's General's Branch
Delhi the 4th November 1927.

To —
Headquarters All Commands.
" Districts
" Ind Bdes.

Reference my No. 539/Q. M. G 2, dated July 7th 1927, forwarding in advance copy of I. A. O. 467 current.

1. A considerable number of replies have now been received from all over India and it is considered that most of the difficulties which may arise in the operation of the order have been pointed out.

2. It is proposed to deal with these difficulties—

- (1) In this letter
- (2) By revising I. A. O 467, where necessary

3. A very large number of minor questions have been raised which can be put into groups. The main groups are:—

- (a) The units to whom the order will apply and the periods of the year which it will apply.
- (b) Information required in submission of bulk demands.
- (c) The date from which leave will start and end
- (d) The outward journey
- (e) The dispersal station.
- (f) The return journey.
- (g) Families.
- (h) Rations.
- (i) Cash.
- (j) Carrying capacity.
- (k) Baggage.
- (l) Dates of running trains.
- (m) Mobilization.
- (n) Audit

It is proposed that the order shall not apply to Training Platoons of British Infantry Battalions. These send small parties of men on leave at the same time. It may be possible for these small parties or even individuals to amalgamate with a party of another unit. This can only be done if units submit demands for all leave details. Paragraph 10 of the order, as it now stands, empowers a District or Independent Brigade Commander to sanction men proceeding on leave as individuals if he sees no chance of their being amalgamated with details of other units, and the strength of the party is too small to warrant a vehicle being engaged. The order will apply to all units with Indian personnel whenever men are to be sent on leave.

(b) When submitting demands formations and units will always show the date of departure from dispersal stations, in addition to the date of arrival, to enable arrangements for the return journey to be made in sufficient time for men to be given their orders for the return journey before they proceed on leave. Men may be granted different periods of leave, in which case a detailed statement of the dates of return will be given. In this case the amount of stock for the return journey will not necessarily be the same as for the outward journey. It is proposed to cancel para 7 (3) of the order.

(c) It has been represented by several Districts, particularly those on the Frontier, that leave should commence from the date of leaving the unit instead of the date of arrival at dispersal stations. The reason for granting leave from dispersal stations is solely a question of rationing. For instance a party—strength 500—is given leave from Peshawar for dispersal at Lucknow and is travelling in a special train. If the leave (say 70 days) starts from the date of leaving Peshawar no rations are permissible during the journey and men have to rely on the railway station hawkers for food, which would almost certainly result in complaints being received that hawkers had been looted. This only applies to large parties. It is therefore proposed that leave from dispersal stations shall hold good but that in the above quoted case 71 days leave only be granted which is the same as 75 days from Peshawar with the advantage of rations for both journeys. It is proposed for the present to have cooking halts for special trains, but when only small parties are travelling in vehicles attached to the ordinary train service ration allowance at 5 annas per man per day will be granted in lieu of rations.

(d) The chief difficulty in the outward journey appears to be the case of men getting off the train at intermediate stations before the vehicle in which they are travelling has reached its final destination. In this case the man has no ticket to take him through the barrier. The matter is under discussion with the Railway Board and the decision of the Board will be communicated in due course. In the meantime the conducting officer will inform the Station Master or ticket collector that he has men travelling on a warrant No. getting off at the station and that they are due to rejoin the train on the return journey on date. If the unit is too short to permit of the above a "chit" to the Station Master containing the above information will be given to the senior soldier.

As regards conducting duties, the following will be a definite order—

A British Officer will be detailed as Conducting Officer when a special train is ordered.

An Indian Officer will be the conducting officer when vehicles are attached to the ordinary train service.

If details of more than one unit are travelling together, the unit with the greatest number of leave details will ordinarily find the Conducting Officer

Stock will be taken and handed over in the usual manner by these officers

(e) The dispersal station will normally be a station of some size but there may be some considerable number of men proceeding on leave by air train for which a number of dispersal stations are required. To take a possible example, 900 men proceed on leave from Peshawar in a special train terminating at Delhi. They go for dispersal at the following junctions —

Nowshera	.	25	Isore		100
Rawalpindi		150	Amritsar	..	250
Mandla		70	Jalandhar		50
Lala Musa	.	60	Ambala		100
Wazirabad		50	Baharainpur		20

and 15 men getting off at 10 other smaller stations on the main line. It will be seen therefore that for this one journey 20 dispersal stations are required. If this is multiplied for the whole of India it will be readily understood that any scheme for providing accommodation at dispersal stations for details returning from leave is out of the question. Men will probably arrive early at dispersal stations but it is considered that as a dispersal station is usually in a man's own country he can probably arrange for accommodation with friends should he be several days too early for his train. It is quite a normal occurrence for passengers to wait 24 hours at a station in this country.

It has been represented that requisitions for tickets at dispersal stations should be sent ahead. It is not proposed to make this an order as it will not be necessary in all cases. Commanding Officers will use their discretion.

(f) For the return journey it is essential that men shall know the date and time the train will leave the dispersal station before they go on leave. Normally there will then be no excuse for men missing the train and they will not arrive very much too early. However there is the possibility of men leaving their homes in sufficient time to catch the train at the dispersal station but being detained by floods etc. missing the train. In all cases when a man misses the train the following procedure will be adopted if the individual has not sufficient money to pay for his return ticket —

He will proceed to the S & O if there is one, show his pass and obtain an advance sufficient to pay for a ticket to his Station. This advance will be recovered through the C. O. of his unit. If there is no Military Officer he will wire from the Station to his Commanding Officer, who on receipt, will wire the money required to the man c/o of the Station Master. The Commanding Officer will be the deciding authority for the extra cost incurred. Commanding Officers will forward money for return journeys to men whose leave has been extended. If the number of extensions are sufficient to alter the return stock the fact will be reported at once.

(g) Families who are entitled to free conveyance will be shown when submitting bulk demands. Non entitled families may travel on payment of the ordinary fares in reserve vehicles attached to either troop or ordinary trains, if there are sufficient to fill a vehicle. If a whole carriage is required for women travelling in Purdah, it will be shown when submitting the demand. Para 13 of I A O, 467 will be amended accordingly.

(h) For the onward journey units should provide rations for the men under regimental arrangements. As regards the return journey sufficient rations for the party should be drawn on indent from the I A S C by the officer conducting the party, this indent being counter signed by the officer making the arrangements for the special train or attached vehicle. A list showing the number of rations drawn for particular men of each unit will be given by the conducting officer to the Staff Officer at the starting point, and the latter will in communication with Officers Commanding units and the Military Accounts Department, be responsible that adjustments of the rations are made in the accounts.

See also (c)

(i) Cash for purchase of tickets from Dispersal Stations to the destination station may be issued to individuals before leaving their units as otherwise it would be necessary for the Dispersing Officer to be given a guard which would be difficult to arrange.

It is not proposed to abolish the system of cash payments for individual tickets at present.

(j) The Military carrying capacity of stock will be used.

(k) If leave details wish to take excess baggage with them they will be prepared to pay for it at the starting station.

(l) It is considered that units are in a better position to say when men can be spared for leave than Army Headquarters. It has been suggested that the date of trains be fixed by Army Headquarters and that lower formations should conform to the dates of these trains. This system is not considered practicable.

(m) On general mobilization all leave details for whom mobilization has been ordered will return individually by the earliest train. The matter is under discussion with the Railway Board. It is proposed that the present leave pass shall be amended slightly so that on mobilization it will become valid for a ticket from the man's home station to the station where he is serving.

On partial mobilization men will have to produce their order of recall in addition.

(n) As regards the question of audit, it is not considered that any difficulty will arise.

5. If possible special trains and vehicles in and out of Madras will be arranged to coincide with the arrival and departure of vessels from and to Burma. Demands from Burma District will be submitted accordingly.

6. If there are still any points which have been raised it is hoped that they will be brought to notice.

I—Accelerated promotion - British Officers

A case has been brought to notice by the War Office in which a recommendation accelerated promotion on behalf of an officer of the British Service was not reported by the G O C in Chief of the Command on the grounds that the officer had not passed for promotion.

With reference to the amendments to King's Regulations which were issued with my Orders for August 1927, it is pointed out that although effect will not be given to any recommendation for accelerated promotion or antedate until the officer concerned has passed for promotion, paragraph 17J E(h) (2), there is nothing in the Regulations to preclude an officer from being recommended for accelerated promotion or antedate before he has qualified for promotion.

Sir,

I am directed to refer to No 3/2/(a) R/24 dated 30th September 1927, from the Embarkation Commandant, Karachi to your address, and to convey the sanction of the Government of India, to the provision of lying down accommodation for small parties of British Troops and their families, when travelling by train at night.

In this connection attention is called to rule 59, of the Indian Railway Conference Association, Coaching, Tariff No 5 in force from 1st September 1927 reproduced below
